Dancers Wanted:

African American Dancers

The first premier all-African American company in Akron, Ohio is now under construction! It is a non-profitable modern based company artistically director by Dominic J. Moore-Dunson. Dominic just now 20 year old has already accomplished much in the field of dance. Along with being the artistic director of the Ohio Youth Ballet Dominic has danced professionally in Washington D.C. for Edgeworks Dance Theater, spent a period of time dancing with the Garth Fagan Dance Company, toured nationally from Carnegie Hall to the John F. Kennedy Performing Arts Center, and is currently a dance major at the University of Akron.

Breaking barriers and facing fallacies is the root of our movement, our goal is to affect the audience and leave them with their minds being stretched, pulled, and pushed on account of the uncomfortable controversial issues that we will present. This transformation of inspiration from the dancers to the audience will only be accomplished by the complete devotion of the mind, heart, body, and soul.

If you feel that you would be asset to this upcoming ground-breaking dance company
